FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, Nov. 11, 1866. The stock market was active but irregular during the sast week. Its general tendency was upward, but on laturday a raid was made upon Erie and the Northhares which reversed the previous course of and the former, which had sold at one time as 86%, was hammered to 82%. Previous to the however, it had been depressed to $1%. The decline estion, with which the rest of the railway list parquestion, with which the rest of the railway list par-ity sympathized, was to all appearances owing to a oulative manesurre as distinguished from a substantial as, and it will not improbably be followed by ther sharp upward movement, for which the sh short interest has prepared the market. Meeting of the Directors of the Central Rail-road at Albany-The New Combinations-The full and thoroughly representative attendance. A considerable amount of routine business was transacted as usual, but the chief subject of consultation was the com-binations bearing upon the approaching election of presi-dent in December. Mr. Vice President R. M. Blatchford, of New York, presided, and it is said ruled some of the haughtier elements of the board with an unsparing hand, and decidedly in the interest of his own ambition to succeed Deau Richmond. It is now known that the coming controlling combina-tions will, beyond persiventure, induce several marked changes in the board, to which I will hereinafter allude. I do not think the rumor on the fixed upon as the candidate of the Western Railroad in-terests can be credited, though that gentleman will ful influence in the affairs of the road. It is felt that he was unjustly displaced to make way for Mr. Richmond, and that some reparation should be made to the vonerable railroader and financier.

There will now be no election of President od interies, for the reason that there is no necessity for such action, and the regular election occurring early near month, when the influence of the stockholders at large can be felt, determines a final postponement of the choice until the regularly designated day. This determination has been unanimously arrived at.

THE NEW COMMINIATIONS.

The South Shore party, or combination, of which Mr. J. W. Keep is the repressuative man, are confident of controlling the road. The express company interest and holds, as well as represents, a large amount of stock in Now England, will undoubtedly be retained. As already intimated, Meaves, Clark and Banker will hold over. THE question of President is more difficult to solve. Mr. W. G. Fargo, of Buffalo, would undoubtedly be chosen on account of his practical knowledge and his situation in connection with the West; but his large interest in express companies is now by many considered a disqualification. Mr. Chapin, of Massachusetts, President of the Western road, and reserved to in this connection in my despatch of the 31st uit, will not accept that position. As to Mr. Sameel Stoan, of New York, in spite of his conceded qualifications, he will have to encounter the decided and powerful heatility of Commodere Vanderbilt, who, having once removed him from the Hudson River road, will neve consent to his respectance as head of the Central. Two other names, therefore, suggest themselves—Mr. J. W. Keep himself, whose knowledge of railroad matters is mainly confined to the price of stocks, and Mr. Boody, formerly of Rochester, now of New York, who is a practical man of large experience, and entirely in the confidence of the South Shore interest. It was Mr. Boody who, when the Wabash and Ohio Railroad was utterly bankrupt, and when himself lost all his property, resigned his seat in Congress, left his residence in Rochester, and devoted his whole energies to completing end equipping the road, and to such an administration of its affairs as enriched the almost ruined stockholders. But will Mr. Boody abandon his residence in New York and the comparative case which wealth has assured him to undertake at this time the administration of so was an interest without compensation? The office of President of the Central road has always been an unsalaried one. Mr. Boody abandon his residence in New York and the comparative case which wealth has assured him to undertake at this time the administration of so was an interest without compensation? The office of President of the Central road h be a candidate.

Much of these specurations have awaited the return from Europe of Mr. Keep. Before his departure one of the stock combinations in Wall street presented his wife and daughter with a rich and costly set of diamonds. I this new combination succeeds, and is able to swallow up the Central, it is difficult to see in what extravagant form their gratitude will be manifested.

THANKSGIVING IN THE SOUTH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

I read with surprise in to-day's Harand the statement that Governor Pation, of Alabama, had named the 29th instant as a day of "fasting, humiliation and prayer," and not of thanksgiving. This erroneous statement is based on a telegram from New Orleans the tendency of creating wrong impressions and fostering ill feeling. Governor Patton has issued a proclamation of thankagiving, and not of fasting; and I herewith send you that proclamation, which I cut from the Montgomery Daily Mail, and which, in the name of justice and peace, I respectfully submit to your perusal:

Cork papers please copy.

The South Shore party, or combination, of which Mr. J. W. Keep is the representative man, are confident of controlling the road. The express company interest and Mr. Corning appear to have united with them. Mr. Vanderbilt instead of aiming at the absolute control of the road, will now content himself with retaining in the direction his son-in-law, Horace F. Cirrk, and, his general agent, J. H. Banker. What confirms this view is that Commodors Vanderbilt, holding a large number of convertible bends, prefers to throw them on the market at the present high rates and to realize the profit rather than to hold control of them.

The changes in the direction of the board will not be as sweeping as was at first intimated. In Buffalo, Mr. Wm. G. Fargo will probably take the place as director, vacased by the late Dean Richmond. Mr. Whitney, of Rochester, whe replaced Mr. Gould, of that city, will probably be removed. Mr. Chedell, of Auburn, may be retained. Mr. Alonzo C. Palge, of Schesectady, and Livingston Spraker, of Montgomery, will very probably give way to new men. Mr. Erastos Corning will probably insist upon superseding Mr. Henry H. Martin, and it is suggested will present his son, Erastus Corning, Jr., for the place. Mr. Cornellun I. Tracy, of Troy, and Charles H. Russell, on New York, will, I am assured, be forced to yield to successors. Nathaniel Thayer, of Boston, who personally holds, as well as represents, a large amount of stock in New England, will undoubtedly be retained. As already intimated, Mesves. Clark and Hanker will hold over.

The question of President is more difficult to solve.
